PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Reflections of Convention

The Association's annual Convention was a time of refreshing about staying on our club's mission of education. This was my second Convention to attend and again it re-energized me to want to volunteer for a worthy cause of helping people learn about the energy business.

The attendees tend to be dedicated members who love to share their experiences with newer members. I enjoyed meeting many friendly faces.

Presenting the fifteen-minute realignment committee report to 250 attendees was the highlight of this year's experience for me. I have to admit I was quite nervous getting up in front of such a large audience, but others encouraged me and I settled in, remembering my presentation tips from my recent MBA program. That's education in action! That's one of the great parts about ADDC is that members encourage and praise volunteers.

This summer, it was exciting to be asked to chair a committee of talented and experienced region representatives, and to help one part of many positive changes the organization is making to adapt to the current membership levels. While the structural region changes are perhaps a year or two later than ideal, coupled with other changes, the realignment will be very helpful to allow the Board to right-size the travel spending and help the organization survive. It will take many brave souls to keep the Association's ship afloat in the next three years. I am humbled that a younger member was encouraged to be one of the many oarsmen, so to speak, in pushing our boat forward.

Dedication, day in and day out, is a key concept to success in D&D. Balancing our club's tasks and activities may feel like bobbing up and down when the wind blows, but consistent and enduring dedication is what keeps the boat sailing towards a constant end. Pitching in for even small tasks is incredibly helpful to staying on course and delivering on time. Perhaps you can think of a way to help once a month.

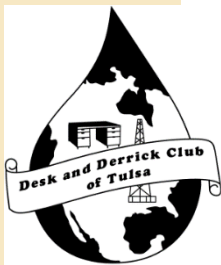

In 2018, as a board member I hope to encourage and praise the dedication of volunteers. Valuing our volunteers makes the organization successful and promotes developing the next generation of leaders. I am glad to be a part of building leaders and bringing members together to share our message.

We're making great strides in late 2017. In September, we welcomed two new board members who will write our monthly bulletin and make new efforts to communicate externally on social media. In October elections, we will see a very high retention rate on the existing board members, as they stay on to serve in 2018. I am glad that the newest two board members are staying on for another year. The board cultural outlook is very bright.

At the Black Gold Golf Tournament in October, we celebrated this year's renewal of the partnership with TGS, exceeded our prior year player count and expanded awareness of our club. Thank you to our many volunteers.

With many cheerful faces joining in to take an oar, we can paddle our way together, swiftly along this journey. Let's ride the recent wave of successes and make D&D great again.

Jonathan

September Meeting Recap

By Jill Klein

The September speaker on Sept. 13 educated us all on Oil and Gas leasing. Tonya Fraley, CPL, CPLTA holds many hats in the Land and Leasing world. She is a member of TALTA, NALTA, SADOA, NADOA, TAPL and AAPL. She first educated the non-land professionals on a few of those strange sounding organizations, like TALTA, Tulsa Association of Lease and Title Analysts or NALTA, National Association of Lease and Title Analysts where she serves on the board.

She also shared that her 6 year old son wanted to offer his input on her speech, he thought a good thing to talk about would be "Pokemon Go"! It seems he is a very skilled Pokemon Go person and has achieved several levels.

A trainer once shared in a class that she was taking that the most valuable asset in the Oil and Gas company is the lease. That would make the land department employee the guardian of the most valuable asset. I have a background in Geology as a Geotech, and the geologist finds the oil and gas reservoirs, however, I don't think I can argue with that statement because there would be no drilling without the leasing.

Tonya explained how important understanding the leasing records are to the land department as well as the land and mineral owner. The Lease Analyst pays the lease obligations, inputs accurate lease records for the company and maintains those records. The Division Order Analyst sets up the payments of the owners correctly according to the terms of the lease and will answer owner questions as they come in. The Land department, landmen, etc. negotiate the terms of the lease in the interest of the company and the landowner. He must know the plans of the company so the lease will allow for future plans. The mineral owner is responsible to understand his/her documents and rights.

Tonya outlined the 5 most misunderstood lease clauses.

1. Habendum clause – the primary and secondary terms
2. Legal description – this is the address to the minerals, it is read right to left not left to right.
3. Acreage description – the net acreage is not included in the lease so often the gross acreage in the description misleads a person to think they have more acreage than the net.
4. Royalty clause – How is the payment portion calculated? This is something the owner need to understand, the lease can express interest as a fraction, decimal or percentage. Tanya actually asked the audience to interact with math problems to see how this calculation works.
5. Favored Nations clause – This has to do with what your surrounding neighbors got as a lease bonus if you are the owner. There are all kinds of factors such as location, parties, time-frame, etc. the lease bonus is not public knowledge so this may or may not come into play. Note: It is the lessee's responsibility to track this and ethically be fair to the land owners and if circumstances change a good lessee would make the parties whole again if they had been underpaid.

Well, the group tested very smart at leasing when the speaker gave them a quiz, of course! Next we got a good laugh from a video clip of Ma & Pa Kettle trying to figure a calculation! So 14 and 5 equals 25, doesn't it!!! -----Jill Klein

The field trip was very successful. All attendees learned and had fun learning. Watching the kids and their discoveries was fantastic. Broc is excellent with teaching the kids and making it fun. The program is so interactive and varied that no one gets bored.

The group gathered at Naples flatbread and that was great too, everyone had a nice relaxing visit.

We really appreciate Kay Williams for coordinating the field trip.

66th Annual ADDC Convention

September 18-23, 2017
Report by Jill Klein

How can you NOT have fun in San Antonio? In a hotel on the Riverwalk? This year 231 members attended the 66th Annual ADDC Convention from 46 clubs that traveled from all over the US and Canada. The week for Vicki Barnes and myself started on Wednesday with a field trip to hill country wineries and Fredericksburg, TX. Our tour guide was a standup comic and made sure she threw an Oklahoma joke at us, she was a hoot! We found 10 am was a little early for us to taste wine but we dove right in anyway, by the time we met up with Kay and Myke for lunch in Fredericksburg we were in need of food. After a great German lunch we did some shopping and historical sight-seeing. Vicki and I attended a great seminar Thursday on Cyber Security, no one can be too careful – change those passwords! After a quick lunch we walked down to the Alamo, a must-see. The afternoon team building was "Painting with a Twist" and of course we all came out with masterpieces!

Friday and Saturday ADDC conducts the business sessions. Jonathan Slay was chairman of the Realignment committee and he had some very hardworking people on his committee. He had a mixture of experienced members and newer members. The group had a very short time-frame to do research, formulate a plan, and propose it. They did an excellent job and they were commended by many for the amount of detail they put into their research. Jonathan delivered the presentation to the whole group. Overall, the feedback has been positive with some voicing concerns. The ADDC board members supported the proposal and expressed that it is crucial to saving the organization and maintaining financial stability.

We learned a lot from the speakers on Friday and Saturday during the Energy Symposium, Salute to Industry Luncheon, Member Recognition Luncheon and the Banquet.

Tulsa and Region VI did very well at the AIMEE Awards. Kay Williams took 1st place for Best large Bulletin! (We aren't surprised, way to go Kay!) Karen Gibbs Hollis got 2nd place on Best President Letter (4/2016).

Of course we enjoyed meals on the riverwalk, a boat ride with the best, Juan, and mingling with previous acquaintances as well as new ones. We thank the company support and the club support for sending your delegates and members. I hope you can attend next year!

About the Speaker –

Dr. Kyle E. Murray earned a PhD in Geological Engineering from Colorado School of Mines in 2003, and has worked as a consultant or academic researcher for more than 20 years. He is currently employed as a Hydrogeologist for the Oklahoma Geological Survey (OGS), which is part of the University of Oklahoma (OU) Mewbourne College of Earth and Energy. His research team investigates physical and chemical properties of geologic materials that store and produce fluids, and conducts regional-scale studies of water, earth, and environmental resources. Water management in the energy industry is his current primary research area. Because of recent seismic activity in Oklahoma, Dr. Murray is partnering with other geoscientists to understand relationships between geologic factors, resource management, and seismicity.

October 2017,

Friends and fellow members,

Whew, what a month September was! Texas, Louisiana and Florida suffered from major flooding, Montana, California, Oregon, and Washington had out of control wild fires. My thoughts and prayers go out to those hit so hard by Mother Nature.

In spite of these catastrophes, San Antonio hosted ADDC's 66th Annual Educational Conference and Convention, they did an amazing job. I can't thank Evelyn Green and her committee enough for going above and beyond. We had 231 members registered, and an incredible 41 FIRST TIMERS in attendance. Many of the first timers contributed to the meetings by introducing our speakers, or leading us in an invocation. I'm so proud of them, and hope this won't be their last convention.

Most of the RD letters contain the results of the election and proposed bylaw amendments, so I won't repeat them here. I will remind everyone that mail votes are being sent out to each club. They are: 1) the realignment of the 7 regions into 4 regions, and 2) the elimination of the position of Vice President. Most clubs will have at least 2 meetings to discuss these issues. I urge you to do so. These changes are vital to the survival of ADDC. You the members have tasked the Board to cut costs. These proposed changes will help us do just that. By now you should have received the Realignment committee's report. They did an outstanding job of explaining how and why the new region structures were determined. If you haven't seen it yet, you can find a link to it on the ADDC members' home page.

There was one more cost cutting matter the Board has taken, and was announced at Convention. This measure had to do with management of Association Distribution Office, and the use of a Webmaster. To save expenses the Board has voted to combine the positions into one the ADDC Business Manager. As of January 1, 2018, Wayne Ammons will be assuming that role. This is not a reflection on the performance of our current ADO Manager, Mark Loch. It is strictly a cost saving measure. Mark has been an outstanding employee, and it has been my pleasure to work with him over the last year. I know he will continue to serve our members with the same professionalism and enthusiasm through the remainder of his tenure. Mark was a former Association Secretary, and I know he plans on running for the Board again. He has my utmost gratitude and respect.

Until next month,

Maggi Franks

Greetings; ADDC Board and Members;

WOW!!! What a convention. The 2017 ADDC International Convention held in Beautiful San Antonio, Texas was amazing!!! There were exciting field trips to Wayne Manufacturing, Wine Tours and Fredericksburg and others. Seminars included; cyber security, shale gas overview and others as well. For those of you who attended I am sure I can speak for us all when I say we had an awesome experience. WE are all looking forward to 2018 convention in Evansville Indiana next year.

The networking, social and educational events were great as well. Attendees experienced a game night with hamburgers and hot dogs, games etc. and it was a great chance to relax and unwind and get reacquainted with friends.

The business meetings were spirited with much debate and an underlying passion and caring for our wonderful organization and the steps that need to be taken in order to grow and maintain the organization for many years to come.

Several bylaw amendments were considered, debated and voted upon. A region realignment proposal was presented and was discussed so that all delegates could report back to their respective clubs in order that a mail vote may take place.

Cost cutting measures were announced including combining the ADO Manager position and the Webmaster position in order to save money for the organization.

Overall all discussion, proposals and actions discussed by membership, delegates and the Board of Directors was aimed at improving, growing and maintaining the excellence of the ADDC for its current and future members.

Club Presidents please be on the lookout for your respective club renewal forms. ADO will be sending these to you by the end of October 2017. Please return the renewal forms as soon as possible. If you have any questions regarding the renewal process for your members or membership for perspective members please contact me at the ADO Office - 405-543-3464, I will be happy to assist you.

I hope everyone has an amazing harvest, fall and Halloween.

Until next month.

Keep your feet on the ground and keep reaching for the stars in the ADDC and beyond.

Sincerely;

Mark Loch

Region VI Members;

The 66th Annual ADDC Convention was a success! From the Halliburton Field trip to the Leadership Training, I learned so much about the industry and being a leader.

Each club President should go over the results of the Proposed Bylaw amendments with their respective club. ALSO, the Presidents will receive a mail ballot to vote on the following:

- 1) Removing the office of Vice President from the ADDC Board to go into effect in 2019 (proposed to save money by distributing the responsibilities to other board members).
- 2) The region realignment (proposed to save money by eliminating four Region Directors' expenses and helping some smaller regions become more viable).

Congratulations to the Region VI AIMEE Award FIRST PLACE winners!

Summary of 2017 Bylaw Changes

V: Add a clarifying comment stating VP role is a training period for President role.

VII: IPP becomes first in line to assume President duties in case of a vacancy, then if unwilling, VP shall succeed. This gives members two possible leaders to fill a vacancy, rather than one. Having IPP as first in line for a president vacancy is consistent with ADDC's bylaws, and assures members that an experienced leader is ready to help the club continue to operate in the event of a president vacancy. No change to VP serving duties of President in case of President's temporary absence.

VIII: Starting in January 2018, members meet on 3rd Wed, rather than 2nd, to boost attendance for members with deadlines in week two.

IX: Board quorum becomes easier to achieve. Rather than having to count all 9 seats and needing 5, a quorum will depend on number of seats filled.

XII: Section 2a, 2b and 3 are updated to be consistent with separating out region dues and stating bylaws or resolutions. Increase of $10 ADDC, and only $2 for club.

XIV: Section 4(j) now has the club's correct website address. Added the extra "d."

XVIII: 2a removes references to Region "VI."

In order to modernize T bylaws to accommodate the upcoming realignment or any future renaming of regions, we're removing Roman Numeral references to our region. Tulsa bylaws had "VI" in three places in this Article. If the realignment does or does not pass, we will have generic wording that will accommodate either outcome. Not referring to the region number is consistent with the OKC Club's bylaws, per my inquiry of the RD.

XXI: Seven-day notice for bylaw changes, to be consistent with notice period for Slate.

Closing: On the last page, we are deleting the last sentence regarding updates in odd and even years, since we don't know how the Region delegates will modify the region resolutions in April 2018 to adapt if the realignment passes in Nov 2017. The last sentence on the last page is now deleted:

"Even numbered Regions in even years and Odd numbered Regions in odd years."
